CENTER FOUNDATION RECOGNIZES DIVINE DAIRY AFFAIR SUPPORTERS

First-Ever Farm-to-Fork Benefit Held in September

Harrisburg, Pa. –In late September, the Center for Dairy Excellence Foundation of Pennsylvania hosted its first-ever farm-to-fork dinner, the Divine Dairy Affair, in Elizabethtown, Pa. The event brought in more than 150 people to benefit the Center Foundation’s education curriculum programs, scholarships and internships.

“This event offered an opportunity for our key partners and others in the central Pennsylvania community to experience art, agriculture and local foods while supporting the work of our foundation,” said Jayne Sebright, executive director of the Center for Dairy Excellence Foundation. “We were so pleased with the generous support we received from the industry, which helped to make this event a remarkable success.”

A wide array of agricultural and food product organizations provided support for the event through donations of product and services, along with monetary support. Financial sponsors for the event included:

- American Dairy Association North East
- Pennsylvania Preferred
- Pennsylvania Beef Council
- Savencia Cheese USA, LLC
- Turkey Hill Dairy

The Center Foundation would also like to thank the following organizations for their in-kind support to the Divine Dairy Affair through providing their products and time:

- Bell & Evans
- Burke’s Maple Syrup
- Culture Magazine
- Harvest View Barn
- Farm Fromage
- JDK Catering
- JBS USA
- Karn Quality Foods
- Kessler Foods, Inc.

- Lancaster Farm Fresh Cooperative
- Land O'Lakes, Inc.
- Marcho Farms
- Moxie Marketing and Media
- Mushroom Farmers of Pennsylvania
- Pennsylvania Cheese Guild
- Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association
- Savencia USA
- Sterman Masser, Inc.
- The Hershey Company
- The Vineyard at Hershey
- Turkey Hill Dairy
- Turner Dairy Farms
- Weaver's Apple Orchard

All proceeds from the event will support the Center Foundation's mission to develop and support programs that educate, cultivate and inspire the next generation of Pennsylvania's dairy industry.
